Paesaggio Costituzione cemento Salvatore Settis,2010

The Future of the Classical Salvatore Settis,Allan Cameron,2006-08-14 Every era has invented a different idea of the 'classical' to create its own identity. Thus the 'classical' does not concern only the past: it is also concerned with the present and a vision of the future. In this elegant new book, Salvatore Settis traces the ways in which we have related to our 'classical' past, starting with post-modern American skyscrapers and working his way back through our cultural history to the attitudes of the Greeks and Romans themselves. Settis argues that this obsession with cultural decay, ruins and a 'classical' past is specifically European and the product of a collective cultural trauma following the collapse of the Roman Empire. This situation differed from that of the Aztec and Inca empires whose collapse was more sudden and more complete, and from the Chinese Empire which always enjoyed a high degree of continuity. He demonstrates how the idea of the 'classical' has changed over the centuries through an unrelenting decay of 'classicism' and its equally unrelenting rebirth in an altered form. In the Modern Era this emulation of the 'ancients' by the 'moderns' was accompanied by new trends: the increasing belief that the former had now been surpassed by the latter, and an increasing preference for the Greek over the Roman. These conflicting interpretations were as much about the future as they were about the past. No civilization can invent itself if it does not have other societies in other times and other places to act as benchmarks. Settis argues that we will be better equipped to mould new generations for the future once we understand that the 'classical' is not a dead culture we inherited and for which we can take no credit, but something startling that has to be re-created every day and is a powerful spur to understanding the 'other'.

Landscape Lab Fabio Bianconi,Marco Filippucci,2019-01-05 This book explores the relationship between the sciences of representation and the strategy of landscape valorisation. The topic is connected to the theme of the image of the city, which is extended to the territory scale and applied to case studies in Italy's Umbria region, where the goal is to strike a dynamic balance between cultural heritage and nature. The studies demonstrate how landscape represents an interpretive process of finding meaning, a product of the relationships between mankind and the places in which it lives. The work proceeds from the assumption that it is possible to describe these connections between environment, territory and landscape by applying the Vitruvian triad, composed of Firmitas (solidity), Utilitas (utility) and Venustas (beauty). The environment, the sum of the conditions that influence all life, represents the place's solidity, because it guarantees its survival. In turn, territory is connected to utility, and through its etymological meaning is linked to possession, to a domain; while landscape, as an "area perceived by people", expresses the search for beauty in a given place, the process of critically interpreting a vision.

Landscape as Heritage Giacomo Pettenati, 2022-08-31 This edited book provides a broad collection of current critical reflections on heritage-making processes involving landscapes, positioning itself at the intersection of landscape and heritage studies. Featuring an international range of contributions from researchers, academics, activists, and professionals, the book aims to bridge the gap between research and practice and to nourish an interdisciplinary debate spanning the fields of geography, anthropology, landscape and heritage studies, planning, conservation, and ecology. It provokes critical enquiry about the challenges between heritage-making processes and global issues, such as sustainability, economic inequalities, social cohesion, and conflict, involving voices and perspectives from different regions of the world. Case studies in Italy, Portugal, Spain, Slovenia, the Netherlands, Turkey, the UK, Columbia, Brazil, New Zealand, and Afghanistan highlight different approaches, values, and models of governance. This interdisciplinary book will appeal to researchers, academics, practitioners, and every landscape citizen interested in heritage studies, cultural landscapes, conservation, geography, and planning.

CAA2015. Keep The Revolution Going Stefano Campana, Roberto Scopigno, Gabriella Carpentiero, 2016-03-31 This volume brings together all the successful peer-reviewed papers submitted for the proceedings of the 43rd conference on Computer Applications and Quantitative Methods in Archaeology that took place in Siena (Italy) from March 31st to April 2nd 2015.

Nature Policies and Landscape Policies Roberto Gambino, Attilia Peano, 2014-11-11 The book focuses on the relationship between nature conservation policies and landscape policies. This is a relevant subject due to the current need of reviving nature conservation policies, which are today affected by a general effectiveness deficiency. To this end, landscape policies can play a crucial role, bridging nature and culture, fostering more integrated approaches to nature conservation and stimulating the active participation of local communities. The book gathers reflections, researches and experiences developed on an international level on this subject by experts coming from different international contexts (Europe, U.S.A.), various disciplinary backgrounds (geographers, planners, biologists, historians, jurists, economists, etc.) and several institutional bodies (Universities, administrative bodies, international organizations such as IUCN, EUROPARC Federation, UNESCO, etc.). The overall reflections gathered in the book - which is divided in three main sections: regulations and institutional frameworks, policies, actions and tools - combine to suggest innovative visions about the relationships between nature policies and landscape policies.

A Visual Approach for Green Criminology Lorenzo Natali, 2016-11-07 This book brings the visual dimension of environmental crimes and harms into the field of green criminology. It shows how photographic images can provide a means for eliciting narratives from people who live in polluted areas – describing in detail and from their point of view what they know, think and feel about the reality in which they find themselves living. Natali makes the argument for developing a visual approach for green criminology, with a single case-study as its central focus, revealing the importance of using photo elicitation to appreciate and enhance the reflexive and active role of social actors in the symbolic and social construction of their environmental experiences. Examining the multiple interactions between the images and the words used to describe the socio-environmental worlds in which we live, this book is a call to open the eyes of green criminology to wider and richer explorations of environmental harms and crimes. An innovative and engaging study, this text will be of particular interest to scholars of environmental crime and cultural, green and visual criminologies.

Global Heritage Lynn Meskell, 2015-06-22 Examines the social, cultural and ethical dimensions of heritage research and practice, and the underlying international politics of protecting cultural and natural resources around the globe. Focuses on ethnographic and embedded perspectives, as well as a commitment to ethical engagement Appeals to a broad audience, from archaeologists to heritage professionals, museum curators to the general public The contributors comprise an outstanding team, representing some of the most prominent scholars in this broad field, with a combination of senior and emerging scholars, and an emphasis on international contributions Italo Calvino's Animals Serenella Iovino, 2021-09-23 The words 'Anthropocene animals' conjure pictures of dead albatrosses' bodies filled with plastic fragments, polar bears adrift on melting ice sheets, solitary elephants in the savannah. Suspended between the impersonal nature of the Great Extinction and the singularity of exotic individuals, these creatures appear remote, disconnected from us. But animals in the Anthropocene are not simply 'out there.' Threatening and threatened, they populate cities and countryside, often trapped in industrial farms, zoos, labs. Among them, there are humans, too. Italo Calvino's Animals explores Anthropocene animals through the visionary eyes of a classic modern author. In Calvino's stories, ants, cats, chickens, rabbits, gorillas, and other critters emerge as complex subjects and inhabitants of a world under siege. Beside them, another figure appears in the mirror: that of an anthropos without a capital A, epitome of subaltern humans with their challenges and inequalities, a companion species on the difficult path of co-evolution.

Ecocriticism and Italy Serenella Iovino, 2016-01-28 Winner of the MLA Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Italian Studies 2016 Winner of the American Association for Italian Studies Book Prize 2016 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com. Written by one of Europe's leading critics, Ecocriticism and Italy reads the diverse landscapes of Italy in the cultural imagination. From death in Venice as a literary trope and petrochemical curse, through the volcanoes of Naples to wine, food and environmental violence in Piedmont, Serenella Iovino explores Italy as a text where ecology and imagination meet. Examining cases where justice, society and politics interlace with stories of land and life, pollution and redemption, the book argues that literature, art and criticism are able to transform the unexpressed voices of these suffering worlds into stories of resistance and practices of liberation.

La Fionda 1/2024 - Contro il Green AA. VV., 2024-06-05 Questo volume ruota attorno alla questione ecologica: una questione complessa, fondata su esigenze reali ma cavalcata da enormi interessi economici e finanziari che spingono verso la transizione green. Il tentativo è quello di restituirne i temi centrali del dibattito politico e scientifico, per tracciare una strada che rappresenti una “terza via” tra il negazionismo e l’affarismo green, e arrivare a un ambientalismo autentico, che non sia fonte di arricchimento per le élites e di ulteriore impoverimento per le esigenze delle classi medie e popolari.

Nuovo manuale di diritto e gestione dell’ambiente Alberto Pierobon, 2012-02 Il presente volume intende fornire una complessiva ed analitica lettura della disciplina ambientale rilevante per gli Enti Locali, aziende di settore e consulenti liberi professionisti, utilizzando un approccio multidisciplinare a più livelli, focalizzandosi sui nodi problematici e pratici, anzitutto proponendo metodi, interpretazioni, buone pratiche e teorie per una approfondita lettura del fatto normativo, con una ricostruzione valutativa-funzionale e dei fondamenti della materia. Il fine del libro è quello di consentire agli interessati di formarsi una propria autonomia di metodo e di giudizio su di una materia così complessa e magmatica: a tal fine i vari argomenti sono trattati utilizzando anche le casistiche quali “palestre” sulle quali applicarsi, oltre che soluzioni e percorsi concretamente riscontrati dagli autori nella loro esperienza e pratica professionale. L’approccio è, contemporaneamente, giuridico, tecnico, organizzativo ed economico in una visione gestionale e professionale ancorata ai necessari riferimenti dottrinari e giurisprudenziali. I 56 autori, riconosciuti esperti della materia trattata nei rispettivi commenti, hanno affrontato la tematica in modo completo e diretto, cosicché i contributi diventano importanti riferimenti cui attingere o da utilizzarsi nella quotidiana attività della pubblica amministrazione, dei controllori, dei professionisti, dei consulenti, dei periti giudiziari o di parte. Ogni contributo è corredato di una nota esplicativa del curatore o di rinvio ad altre parti del Manuale onde consentire una visione sistematica e di insieme anche per le diverse discipline o questioni trattate. Il Manuale è stato aggiornato con le novità ambientali introdotte dagli ultimissimi provvedimenti legislativi quali la Legge n. 214 del 22/12/2011 (cd. Decreto “Salva Italia”), il D.L. n. 216 del 29/12/2011 (Decreto “Milleproroghe”), il D.L. n. 1 del 24/01/2012 (normativa sulle liberalizzazioni) e il D.L. n. 2 del 25/01/2012 (misure straordinarie e urgenti in materia ambientale); vengono infine anticipate le novità contenute nel decreto sulle semplificazioni in corso di pubblicazione. Il volume è indirizzato a tutta la Pubblica Amministrazione, in particolare agli Enti Locali, al personale delle aziende strumentali operanti nel settore della gestione ambientale (siano essi soggetti privati o pubblici), agli organi di controllo (A.R.P.A., Polizia Municipale, ecc.), ai professionisti (dottori commercialisti, avvocati, periti, consulenti ed esperti) e alle associazioni di settore. Alberto Pierobon, www.pierobon.eu nella sua lunga attività professionale ha ricoperto vari ruoli tra i quali quello di Dirigente e Vicesegretario Generale EE.LL., di Direttore Generale di Consorzio intercomunale imprenditoriale, di Sub-Commissario per la raccolta differenziata in Campania, di Componente della Struttura della Presidenza del Consiglio-Ministero dell'Ambiente sulle emergenze ambientali, di Componente della Commissione Tecnico-Scientifica del Ministero dell'Ambiente ed infine di componente la Segreteria Tecnica Qualità della Vita dello stesso Ministero. Autore di numerose pubblicazioni in materia di enti locali, servizi pubblici locali, ambiente e contrattualistica pubblica svolge ora l'attività di libero professionista e di recente è stato nominato amministratore dell'acquedotto del Comune di Napoli con il compito di trasformare l'azienda da società per azioni ad azienda speciale.

Conserving Cultural Landscapes Ken Taylor,Archer St. Clair,Nora J. Mitchell,2014-09-19 New approaches to both cultural landscapes and historic urban landscapes increasingly recognize the need to guide future change, rather than simply protecting the fabric of the past. Challenging traditional notions of historic preservation, Conserving Cultural Landscapes takes a dynamic multifaceted approach to conservation. It builds on the premise that a successful approach to urban and cultural landscape conservation recognizes cultural as well as natural values, sustains traditional connections to place, and engages people in stewardship where they live and work. It brings together academics within the humanities and humanistic social sciences, conservation and preservation professionals, practitioners, and stakeholders to rethink the meaning and practice of cultural heritage conservation, encourage international cooperation, and stimulate collaborative research and scholarship.

Between the Devil and the Deep Della A. Scott-Ireton,2013-08-23 In creating interpretive strategies for maritime sites, archaeologists and resource managers often are required to think creatively to overcome challenges and problems. These issues include interpreting sites in inaccessible locations and extremely deep water, enabling and controlling access to fragile sites and restricted areas, monitoring visitor behavior, making information interesting to a wide audience, and creating opportunities for public engagement, among other concerns. Meeting Challenges presents cutting-edge interpretation and public education strategies for maritime resources, both on land and underwater, with emphasis on solving the unique problems often associated with presenting these fragile, limited-access sites as heritage attractions and on developing effective visitation and civic engagement opportunities. The examples presented ideally can serve as models for resource managers, archaeologists engaged in interpretation, and site administrators. This volume brings together a diverse group of heritage professionals to discuss issues they've encountered and to present ideas and case studies for adapting, improvising, and overcoming them.

Italy and the Environmental Humanities Serenella Iovino,Enrico Cesaretti,Elena Past,2018-03-27 Bringing together new writing by some of the field's most compelling voices from the United States and Europe, this is the first book to examine Italy--as a territory of both matter and imagination--through the lens of the environmental humanities. The contributors offer a wide spectrum of approaches--including ecocriticism, film studies, environmental history and sociology, eco-art, and animal and landscape studies--to move past cliché and reimagine Italy as a hybrid, plural, eloquent place. Among the topics investigated are post-seismic rubble and the stratifying geosocial layers of the Anthropocene, the landscape connections in the work of writers such as Calvino and Buzzati, the contaminated fields of the ecomafia's trafficking, Slow Food's gastronomy of liberation, poetic birds and historic forests, resident parasites, and nonhuman creatures. At a time when the tension between the local and the global requires that we reconsider our multiple roots and porous place-identities, Italy and the Environmental Humanities builds a creative critical discourse and offers a series of new voices that will enrich not just nationally oriented discussions, but the entire debate on environmental culture. If Venice Dies Salvatore Settis, 2016-08-22 "This powerful book of cultural criticism" by the renowned art historian "shines a harsh light on" a historic city's destruction in the name of profit (The Washington Post). What is Venice worth? To whom do its irreplaceable treasures belong? This eloquent book by art historian Salvatore Settis urgently poses these questions, igniting a new debate about urban stewardship and cultural patrimony at large. As Venice grows increasingly unaffordable and inhospitable to its own residents, Venetians are abandoning their hometown at an alarming rate. At last count, there was only one local for every 140 visitors. As it capitulates to tourists and those who profit from them, Venice's transformation into a lifeless shell of itself has become emblematic of the future of historic cities everywhere. In this blend of history and cultural analysis, written with wide-ranging erudition and élan, Settis makes a passionate plea to secure the soul of Venice. "Anyone interested in learning what is really going on in Venice should read this book." —Donna Leon, author of My Venice and Other Essays and Death at La Fenice

Green Harms and Crimes R. Sollund,2016-01-12 The book presents discussions of the application of Stan Cohen's theories alongside empirical contributions in the fields of critical and green criminology. Taken together, the authors critically address harms and crimes against the environment, as well as against human and nonhuman victims.
