Food Marketing Carlo Meo,2015-05-18T00:00:00+02:00 Il food è diventata la nuova religione di consumo, la cultura dei giovani, l'argomento mediatico vincente, Expo incluso, ma ancora esiste un grande divario tra il successo del fenomeno e la sua interpretazione. Questo volume analizza le nuove tendenze di consumo dei foodies e contemporaneamente suggerisce alle aziende e agli imprenditori come operare in questi mercati sia per avere successo, sia per evitare dei guai: essere italiani aiuta, ma non è sufficiente! Il settore food è forse il più complesso nel quale operare, quello che richiede maggior equilibrio tra creatività e utilizzo di regole ormai consolidate e scientifiche. L'innovazione, vista come capacità di leggere i nuovi significati di consumo nel mondo alimentare, è la chiave per avere successo insieme al coraggio e alla coerenza imprenditoriale. E questo libro si propone come una risorsa operativa di riferimento nel settore.

Food Marketing2 Carlo Meo,2019-05-17T00:00:00+02:00 Perché nelle città chiudono le banche e aprono al loro posto hamburgerie, bistrot e ristoranti? Perché mangiamo sempre più spesso fuori casa e quando siamo in casa riscaldiamo qualcosa di pronto o aspettiamo l'arrivo di un pasto cucinato da altri? Cracco ce la farà a mantenersi in Galleria a Milano? Parigi è ancora la capitale del food chic e Londra dell'innovazione? Il superfood è un'idea geniale di marketing e la pasticceria il peccato indulgente dei nostri tempi? Il food è diventato un linguaggio urbano, una narrazione delle nostre città, un settore dell'economia dell'esperienza, ma soprattutto un business, perché solo le città possono garantire i risultati economici concreti. Nelle città il prodotto food diventa un concetto che interpreta i nuovi significati di consumo delle persone e che ha bisogno di nuovi formati per essere venduto. Naturale evoluzione del precedente Food Marketing, questo libro spiega come avere successo nel nuovo mondo del food, nell'evoluzione del marketing tradizionale verso il design dell'esperienza e mette in evidenza le tendenze e le opportunità per aziende e imprenditori, proponendo un nuovo modello di approccio strategico e operativo al mercato.

Engaging with Fashion Federica Carlotto,Natalie McCreesh,2018-11-26 This book is a modern exploration of how we engage with fashion today. Through a series of articles this book shows the 'ways' through which we can approach fashion.

The articles are organized around the following six sections: marketing, consuming, educating, communicating, embodying and positioning - each with a mix of research approaches and strategies. From sustainability and consumerism to street-style and street-food. From how fashion is taught across the globe to how fashion is communicated through photography and the media. We invite the readers to be curators themselves, and to create their own 'augmented knowledge' of fashion, by reading the varied themes in this book. Contributors are Claire Allen, Deidra Arrington, Naomi Braithwaite, Jill Carey, Federica Carlotto, Karen Dennis, Doris Domoszlai, Lindsay E. Feeny, Nádia Fernandes, Jacque Lynn Foltyn, Alessia Grassi, Chris Jones, Lan Lan, Peng Liu, Mario Matos Ribeiro, Natalie C. McCreesh, Alex McIntosh, Alice Morin, Nolly Moyssi, Maria Patsalosavvi, Laura Petican, Jennifer Richards, Susanne Schulz, Ines Simoes, Helen Storey, Steve Swindells, Stephen Wigley, Gaye Wilson and Cecilia Winterhalter.

The Global Food Economy Tony Weis, 2008-12-08 The Global Food Economy examines the human and ecological cost of what we eat. The current food economy is characterized by immense contradictions. Surplus 'food mountains', bountiful supermarkets, and rising levels of obesity stand in stark contrast to widespread hunger and malnutrition. Transnational companies dominate the market in food and benefit from subsidies, whilst farmers in developing countries remain impoverished. Food miles, mounting toxicity and the 'ecological hoofprint' of livestock mean that the global food economy rests on increasingly shaky environmental foundations. This book looks at how such a system came about, and how it is being enforced by the WTO. Ultimately, Weis considers how we can find a way of building socially just, ecologically rational and humane food economies.

Food Tourism and Regional Development C. Michael Hall, Stefan Gössling, 2016-05-26 Food tourism is a topic of increasing importance for many destinations. Seen as a means to potentially attract tourists and differentiate destinations and attractions by means of the association with particular products and cuisines, food is also regarded as an opportunity to generate added value from tourism through local agricultural systems and supply chains and the local food system. From a regional development perspective this book goes beyond culinary tourism to also look at some of the ways in which the interrelationships between food and tourism contribute to the economic, environmental and social wellbeing of destinations, communities and producers. It examines the way in which tourism and food can mutually add value for each other from the fork to the plate and beyond. Looking at products, e.g. cheese, craft beer, noodles, wine; attractions, restaurants and events; and diverse regional examples, e.g. Champagne, Hong Kong, Jamaica, Margaret River, southern Sweden, and Tuscany; the title highlights how clustering, networking and the cultural economy of food and tourism and foodscapes adds value for regions. Despite the attention given to food, wine and culinary tourism no book has previously directly focused on the contribution of food and tourism in regional development. This international collection has contributors and examples from almost every continent and provides a comprehensive account of the various intersections between food tourism and regional development. This timely and significant volume will inform future food and tourism development as well as regional development more widely and will be valuable reading for a range of disciplines including tourism, development studies, food and culinary studies, regional studies, geography and environmental studies.

Despite hard evidence showing the importance of digital marketing, the emphasis often remains on traditional media, with the most common social media channels being used without centralized coordination or integration with a wider marketing and branding campaign. Multi-Channel Marketing Ecosystems examines a fundamental game changer for the entire marketing industry - the seismic shift from a single TV-centric path to a multi-channel interactive ecosystem which puts digital technology at the heart of every campaign. With separate chapters on the remaking of marketing, the rise of the digital brand, conversion optimization, m-commerce, searchability in a multi-channel world and predictive marketing, Multi-Channel Marketing Ecosystems shows how marketers and brand managers can react positively to changes in consumer behaviour, building customer responses and loyalty via the full spectrum of digital media.

Agricultural Cooperative Management and Policy Constantin Zopounidis,Nikos Kalogeras,Konstadinos Mattas,Gert van Dijk,George Baourakis,2014-06-05 This book focuses on the use of farm level, micro- and macro-data of cooperative systems and networks in developing new robust, reliable and coherent modeling tools for agricultural and environmental policy analysis. The efficacy of public intervention on agriculture is largely determined by the existence of reliable information on the effects of policy options and market developments on farmers' production decisions and in particular, on key issues such as levels of agricultural and non-agricultural output, land use and incomes, use of natural resources, sustainable-centric management, structural change and the viability of family farms. Over the last years, several methods and analytical tools have been developed for policy analysis using various sets of data. Such methods have been based on integrated approaches in an effort to investigate the above key issues and have thus attempted to offer a powerful environment for decision making, particularly in an era of radical change for both agriculture and the wider economy.

Social Capital in Development Planning Raffaella Y. Nanetti, Catalina Holguin, 2016-01-28 The pursuit of sustainable development and smart growth is a main challenge today in countries around the world. Social capital is an asset of their territorial communities. It is also a precondition for national and local policies that aim to better the economic base and quality of life for all. This change is socially diffused, economically sustainable over time, and smart in its content. A significant stock of social capital facilitates such results because it links into the process of development planning institutional decision makers and socioeconomic stakeholders who share trust, solidarity norms, and a community vision. In the last thirty years, social capital has become a forceful concept in the social sciences, the subject of many scholarly works and a topic of keen interest and debate in policy circles. Yet the main focus has been on defining and measuring social capital, with little attention given to its value in promoting development policies. Social Capital in Development Planning updates and advances the debate on social capital through the analysis of the application of the concept of social capital to programs for sustainable and smart socioeconomic development; empirical findings; and a new paradigm for development planning.
